Muhlis's learning motivation is good. He is always enthusiastic on following the learning process in class. This semester, he passes each subject's passing grade.

He likes Mathematics because he likes doing multiplication. He seems passionate when he is learning and discuss Math with his friends. He got good scores for his assignments and exams. His least favorite subject is Indonesian language because it is hard for him to write in formal language and making a story or poems. However, he keeps trying to learn more.

Muhlis did not follow any extracurricular activities at school because he wants to focus on his study. While in the foundation he attends English class, which is taught by volunteers twice a week.

He has a good interaction with his friends at school. His friends often comes to the foundation to study or play with him. He is rather shy with his teachers, so he seldom interacts with the teachers outside the classroom. However, he doesn't have problems at school this semester.
