General comments / Komentar umum:

Siti has improved a lot this semester, especially in her behavior. She is not shy to perform in front of the classroom. Her increased self-confidence encourages her to be more willing to show what she knows and what she can do. She is also more resilient when facing challenges. In working on difficult tasks, she doesn't give up easily and gives her best. Siti shows more responsibility towards her personal and school belongings. Her notebooks are neat and she also actively participates in maintaining the cleanliness of the classroom and schoolyard. Her social interactions with school staff and other students are excellent because she is able to put herself among others and shows respect.

She already masters the multiplication and that helps her to move forward in the lesson. This semester she learns about the Least Common Factor. Although she knows the theory, she sometimes makes mistakes in determining the prime numbers. In integer, she needs more practice in positive (+) and negative (-) calculation. In 3D shapes, Siti shows good skills especially in drawing shapes based on characteristics. |
